

HEAVY COURT DAY

Suit of Ex-Customs Official Against the Republic.

REVIVAL OF A PAY CLAIM

A Discontinuance—Estate Matters. Jury Trials—Verdict in Damage Case—Stipulations.

A suit has been commenced against the Republic of Hawaii by Henry Zerbe in the Supreme Court for the recovery of the sum of $726.25, for money alleged to be due for work and services performed by the plaintiff as assistant Appraiser and Examiner for the port of Honolulu. The petition contains the many averments and formalities required by the statute, in order to enable the plaintiff to get a hearing before the Supreme Court. This claim was allowed by the House of Representatives at the last session, but was defeated in the Senate. The suit has the distinction of being, perhaps, the last against the Republic of Hawaii. George A. Davis is attorney for the plaintiff.

A discontinuance has been filed in the ejectment suit of H. M. Von Holt, Emma V. Harrison and Fred Harrison vs. The Right Rev. Gulstan F. Ropert, Bishop of Papeete, and Brother Bertram. Kinney & Ballou for plaintiffs.

In the matter of Helen P. Clark vs. James K. Kaulla, et al., bill to declare and execute a trust, Judge Stanley has ordered that the rents now due and to accrue pending final decision in the case shall be paid into court. J. A. Thompson is appointed to collect such rents and to pay from them such water rates and taxes as may be due. S. K. Kane, attorney for plaintiff; Kinney & Ballou, attorneys for defendants Estate of S. G. Wilder, Ltd.; James K. Kaulla, trustee, and C. H. Clarke in person.

The case of Ung Shing, Ung Yung and Chock Fook, charged with rioting, came to an end in Judge Stanley's court early yesterday afternoon, after a hearing lasting parts of two days. The jury returned a unanimous verdict of not guilty and defendants were discharged. E. P. Dole, for prosecution; Robertson, for defendants.

In the matter of Emile Macfarlane vs. E. K. Wilder and C. L. Wright, defendants, have signed a stipulation giving plaintiff until August 30 to file bill of exceptions in said ejectment case. Kinney & Ballou for defendants.

In the damage suit of C. S. Bradford vs. Daniel Porter and W. S. Wise, plaintiff yesterday filed a bond of $200, necessary to bring the case properly before the court. P. L. Dortch is surety. Paul Neumann, attorney for plaintiff; G. K. Wilder for defendants.

David Dayton, guardian of the estate of Daniel Fisher, deceased, has filed a petition to be allowed to expend the sum of $575.52 in repairs to two buildings belonging to said estate, same being necessary to ensure the renting of the property.

John Emmeluth, guardian of Elias Jones, has filed in the Circuit Court, a receipt of his ward for $1,047.68, balance of cash remaining in his hands for said beneficiary. A discharge from further obligation is also noted in the receipt.

In the suit entitled Henry Vida vs. James Carly, $1,000 damages, defendant has filed an answer denying each and every allegation set forth in the petition.

In the ejectment matter of the Hawaiian Commercial Co. vs. Kahului Railroad Co. a stipulation has been signed by the attorneys of respective litigants waiving jury and agreeing that the court may hear the controversy on its merits.

The case of Young John Ying vs. W. W. Ahana, $2,000 damages for malicious prosecution, was heard in Judge Perry's court yesterday. The jury, three dissenting, returned a verdict for plaintiff for the sum of $100. Dickey for plaintiff; Magoon and McLanahan for defendant.

A Sister's Gratitude.

Touching and appreciative letters are received here by every mail, from anxious relatives of officers and men of the Manila expeditions.

A young lieutenant was accidentally left behind by one of the transports and through the kindness of one of our merchants, obtained a passage to Hong Kong. His sister gratefully writes to this merchant:

"We who wait at home, thinking, thinking always of those dear boys so far away, fearing lest accident or illness, or the sad fortunes of war may keep them forever from us, cannot but be most grateful to everyone who is kind to them in any way, and you were so very kind to—that we shall always remember it."

Young Whales

Two immense grampuses went ashore at Kihel, Maui and in spite of their struggles remained high and dry on the beach. Their backs were cut off and brought down on the Kihel. Grampuses are valued for oil and the natives in the vicinity of Kihel may render out the blubber on them.

FROM THE ORIENT.

Japan and China News in the Glenfarg's Mail.

The Korean Government has granted the mining concession to Germany in conformity with her request. The application of Great Britain will probably also soon be acceded to.

Sole mining rights in the provinces of Pechili, China, have been granted to Mr. Detring, a German.

It was officially reported by the Japanese Government to all treaty Powers, on July 17th, that the Civil and Commercial Codes were put into force in Japan from July 1st and 16th respectively. This is indicative of the intention of the Government to bring the new treaties into operation by the date specified, a year hence.

There is possibility of China's enacting Copyright and Patent laws in the near future, if the promise held out in a recent Imperial decree is carried out. Marquis Ito has left Japan for a two months' visit to China. He was accompanied by Mr. Narabara, a former secretary to the Legation at Peking; Mr. Daumoto, ex-private secretary to the Marquis, and Mr. Mori, a well known poet. The Marquis held a prolonged interview with the Emperor before his departure.

Mr. Shimamura, Minister to Hawaii, who returned to Tokyo from Honolulu on July 25th, was present in the Foreign Office July 27, when he reported to Count Okuma the closing of the Legation at Honolulu in obedience to the order of the Japanese Government.

A SOLDIER'S DUTY

Rev. G. C. Pearson's Sermon to Camp Dole Men.

A Strong Text—Direct Injunction to all Men—Obedience—Training and Discipline.

The congregation which assembled at the Methodist Church Sunday evening to hear Rev. G. C. Pearson's sermon on "The Soldier's Duty" contained many of the Boys in Blue from Camp Dole.

Mr. Pearson announced as his text: "Watch ye; stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong," and gave three things as essential to good soldiers whether on the military, civil or moral battle fields of life, viz: watchfulness, steadfastness and manliness.

Obedience is a soldier's first lesson. He must do many things the necessity of which, he may not at the time comprehend. So in life there are essential conditions that must be met, certain training and discipline that must be endured if one will embrace the opportunities and discharge the duties of life.

Young people should learn well the lesson of watchfulness. To be watchful is to be wide awake, vigilant, alert, the opposite of a hazy, dreamy, sleepy, slipshod life. One should be ever watchful against the enemy and for opportunities of obtaining and doing good.

Steadfastness should be well learned. By being steadfast in small affairs men develop power to stand under the great and sudden demands of duty. No one is great in times of trial who has not learned discipline in preceding days.

Manliness is essential. It is developed by patient endeavor and the grace of God. By meeting these conditions men are able to perform the great and noble deeds demanded of them. The nation in her need wants trained men—men equal to any emergency. Humanity cries for the help of the strong. God wants intelligent, disciplined men to serve Him and in their generation.

Mr. Pearson gave a number of incidents illustrating these thoughts. He contrasted the conduct of the American and Spanish troops in battle, and also the terrible scenes enacted on the sinking of La Bourgogne with the admirable manliness of the British troops who in the interest of the women and children stood in line with arms presented and with their officers went down with the ill fated Birkenhead. As an example of the Christian, manly soldier he referred to Lieut. R. P. Hobson, who by obeying Paul's exhortation throughout life had developed a character that was ready for the opportunity that came to him.

The sermon was helpful, stimulating and received the close attention of all present.

Says They Robbed Him.

A Chinese store keeper sends this news item to the Advertiser:

"On Tuesday night, August 9, at about half past ten, there was a gang of Boys in Blue passing on Fort street. It happened that they came to a Chinese fruit store. While they were standing at the door one of them kicked a pineapple out on the side walk, then another picked it up and tried to take it away. While the keeper was trying to get it back the other fellows were robbing on the other end of the store. So the Chinaman blew the whistle and got a policeman there, but he wouldn't do anything to them and stood there looking at them robbing the things. Another fellow put his hand over the window and took a box of cigars away. When they had robbed a whole lot of things they went away and the store keeper found more things stolen by the soldiers than he expected."

F. G. Eyton-Walker Secured 132 Negatives.

Saw the Place Where he was Shipwrecked—Plenty More Guano on Laysan Island.

F. G. Eyton-Walker was a passenger on the steamer Waialeale from Laysan Island, Thursday night. He went as photographer to the expedition and took while away 132 negatives on the different islands visited by the expedition.

After leaving this port the Waialeale first made Bird or Nihoa Island but did not land. A few photographs were made from the deck of the vessel. On July 15th, Necker Island was reached and Senator Wilcox, Dr. Averdam, Mr. Walker and a servant landed and explored that island for about three hours. The flag which had been left by the Captain King expedition some years ago had been torn from half-yard, but the staff was still standing. Not an idol was found. The survey posts erected by H. B. M. S. Champion were still in position. A large turtle was caught which furnished food for several days for those on board. French Frigate Shoals were reached the next day and another landing was made. These islands are gradually disappearing and washing away under the action of the ocean currents. Just before reaching French Frigate Shoals, Senator Wilcox cut himself severely with a pen knife. He had a bar of salt water soap which he was dividing and through a slip the knife, which was a new one, went deep into his thigh to the bone. This laid him up for the best part of the voyage and he is not well yet.

On July 18, Laysan Island was reached and the barkentine Planter was found loading guano and Superintendent Spencer busy with the Japanese laborers. The following days Pearl and Hermes Reef was reached, so-called from the fact that two whaling vessels by these names were wrecked there a long time ago. The survivors built a schooner and came to Honolulu. There were a number of seals depositing on these islands and were very tame. Some photographs of the seals were taken by Mr. Walker.

The Waialeale reached Midway Island, July 20th. It was on this island that the bark Wandering Minstrel was wrecked in February, 1887, containing Captain F. D. Walker and his family and a crew of twenty-four men. They were there 14 months and were picked up finally after almost starving to death by the schooner Norma which is now in this harbor. The wreck of the schooner General Seigel is still to be seen high and dry on the mainland. A letter in Japanese was found in a house which had been erected by the U. S. Government during a survey of these islands, containing information to the effect that in June of this year a Japanese steamer had called there while passing the islands to seek any shipwrecked men that might be there. Three wingless birds that had been taken by Mr. Walker from Laysan to Midway Island some five years ago had propagated until now there are then said to be more if possible than on Laysan Island.

More seals were seen on Ocean Island on which the expedition landed July 21st. Some portions of the house erected by the Hawaiian Government fourteen years ago are still standing. The bark Donner Castle was wrecked on this island about fifteen years ago.

Morell and Byers Islands do not exist. A complete search was made by the expedition for the islands as laid down on the chart but not a sign of them could be seen.

The return to Laysan Island was made on July 31st and while there Dr. Averdam found some new beds of guano which will keep up the supply from that place for another two years. There is fully ten more loads for the barkentine Planter.

Captain Mosher who had charge of the Waialeale on this trip brought several hundred Laysan Island canaries back with him.

Live Stock.

The Andrew Welsh brought a lot of fine live stock for the islands. There were twenty-five Devon bulls, seventy-five black face rams and twenty-six fine milks for the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., Maui; a $500 colt and three Jersey cows for the Molokai Ranch Co.; five chickens for W. W. Dimond and John Ena.

"No Buttons for Girls."

Edwin is a bright-faced, handsome boy of 7 or 8 and knows a good deal about what's going on. He was at the Boys in Blue dinner on Monday and was arrayed in blouse and cap of the N. G. H. A very charming young lady accosted Edwin, but he only said: "I don't give buttons to the girls. Good-bye." And the winsome young lady heard a chorus of laughter.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. BOGGS, Stumptown, Glimmer Co., W. Va.
